MARRIAGES.

Married on the 9th inst at Covington Ind. Prof. W. White, to Miss Mertie H. Smith, by Rev. Mr. Donaldson. The Professor and his fair bride have returned to this city and intend to make Savannah their future home.

MARRIED ON THE 15TH.

Married Nov 15th 1871 by Rev. John H. Best, Mr. Wm. Schmitt of Nebraska, to Miss Mary M. Kenner, of Andrew County. Mr. Schmitt and his fair bride, were determined to secure future happiness for they came to the famous hard ware store of Buis and Dobbs, and bought their outfit for housekeeping, this speaks well for our town: Persons coming from Nebraska to purchase, stoves and queensware, and who not Buis and Dobbs sell cheaper goods, and of better quality than any store in the North West.

MARRIED ON WEDNESDAY.

Married on Wednesday November 15th 1871, at the residence of Mr. George W. Shroufe in Savannah Mo. by the Rev. A. C. Gann. Mr. J. T. McKernon of Medina, McCoupin County Illinois to Miss Mary E. Starr of this city.

THE HAPPY COUPLE.

The happy couple took the cars this morning for Modora, Ills. their future home, carrying with them the well wishes of hosts of admiring friends.

MR. NORMAN BUELL.

Mr. Norman Buell, the old pioneer of St. Joseph, called on us last Monday—he and his lady are visiting Mr. G. T. Bryan of this city.—Mr. Buell was the founder of woolen factories in St. Joseph.

Sam Warner Esq., one of the largest farmers of Jackson township passed through the city this morning in charge of Deputy U. S. Marshall Smith, on his way to St. Joseph, to answer before R. S. Massor, U. S. Commissioner, a charge of violation of the U. S. revenue laws, in not stamping a deed, made some time ago to Mr. Ammons—

LOST—about the first of November, between my residence and the mill, a pair of pebble glass Spectacles with steel rims plain tin case containing a few revenue stamps. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving them at the Republican office or returning the same to me at the mill.

Wm. Caldwell.

Nov. 11th 1871.

PROF. MURKINS' second course of penmanship closed at the Seminary last evening. Two prizes of the Prof's. own drawing were awarded for making the most improvement and answering most questions. The Professor has acquitted himself creditably at this place, and wherever he goes, we bespeak for him a cordial reception.

NODAWAY CORRESPONDENCE.

MARYVILLE, Mo., Nov. 6, 1871.

MR. EDITOR:

As per announcement, the Hon. L. C. Parker addressed a large audience of Republicans at Union Hall upon the political issues of the day. His speech was well received by all present, except the Democrats, who, as a matter of course, were ready to cry "Nigger in the wood pile," or anything else to keep up their fluctuating spirits. The grand feature of the whole meeting, and the influence of which will re-echo at the ballot-box at the ensuing election, was the re-uniting of the two wings of the Republican party of Nodaway county. The call for the meeting was not extended (only a week's time), yet representative men of both wings were present, ready and willing to come into the harness again. D. L. Palmer, chairman of the Liberal Committee, sounded a true which was hailed with delight and loud applause. While the chairman of the committee on resolutions was reading them, D. L. arose to his feet and offered an objection to the third resolution, which contained some proviso for future exigencies which might arise in certain cases, etc., etc. He contended all provisions in a few words by saying that he thought that thing had gone far enough, adding that there was to be no proviso with him, as he wanted the thing knocked in to a cocked hat. In other words, they wanted to re-unite in fact and spirit. This is the true spirit which should actuate all well-wishers of the party. If it be treason to be a Republican, let them make the most of it who wish to.

With this movement fairly inaugurated

there is no such thing as stopping it, and I yet expect that similar meetings will be held throughout the State, your own fair Andrew not excepted.

Now is the time for all to step and think before they leap. It is much better for Republicans of both wings to work together for results achieved by them on the battle field and at the ballot-box.

Yours, J. D. M.

Re-Union of the Republican Party.

Mr. Editors—The subject of the re-union of the Republican party, should now be agitated and continued to be agitated until the party in this State and in this county is once more perfectly united and consolidated, with their armor buckled on, ready and willing to meet and overthrow the most corrupt and unprincipled political party that ever disgraced this or any other country—the old harlot of corruption, the so-called Democratic party. Where is the man that calls himself a Republican, and has the good of the State and the whole country at heart, that would throw the least impediment in the way of the speedy consolidation of the Republican party, when so much depends upon their success at the next general election? I mean so far as our State election is concerned, for our success in a national point of view is a foregone conclusion. All parties admit the success of the great Republican party in 1872. With Gen. Grant as our standard bearer the hopes of corruption will be driven through the wilderness the second time into the last ditch, where, like their great captain, the traitor Gen. Lee, they will be made to surrender their arms, give their parole of honor, if they have any, and retire to the shades of private life. So may they expire.

I am satisfied that the re-union of the party will be an easy matter in this county, when the call shall be made by both wings of the party, except an insignificant number that will follow in the wake of the so-called Democratic party, picking up the few crumbs that may chance to fall from their overburdened table of corruption to satisfy their craven appetites. These few beautiful exceptions were never Republicans at heart, but were hangers-on of the Republican party during the war for the Union and as against traitors, and which now may be said of them that they are like the sow that has returned to her wallowing in the mire. Here let them make their bed and wallow on, fit subjects for such a party. May their shadow never be less in that party. But the honest masses of those who left the regular Republican party a year ago—upon a mere local question which is now settled—are nearly all already back in the party of their choice, the good old Republican party, for when it comes to straight-out honest Republicanism and corrupt Democracy, their choice is soon settled in favor of their old, tried friends, the glorious old Republican party.

There is every incentive to the speedy consolidation of the Republican party in this State and our marching on to Victory. When the telegraph flashes the glorious news of Republican victories all over our Union the people are speaking out in language which cannot be misunderstood by the old rotten Democracy.
